Where?	University of Kansas, School of Architecture, Lawrence, KS 66045
Who are the instructors?	Robert Coffeen, PE, FASA , University of Kansas School of Architecture Bruce Olson , Principal Consultant, Olson Sound Design Jim Mobley, Sr. , Application Engineer, Renkus-Heinz, Inc.
What's covered?	Please see the workshop outline available here: https://www.renkus-heinz.com/support/software-support/easera_support/classes/index.html
What are the hours?	8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Friday and Saturday; optional group dinner Friday night
How much does it cost?	$550.00
How many can attend?	The workshop is limited to 20 participants.
How do I sign up?	Register and pay here: https://www.renkus-heinz.com/support/software-support/easera_support/classes/index.html
Where do I fly? Airp	Kansas City International Airport ort Code: MCI Airlines: Air Canada, Air Tran, American, Continental, Delta, ExpressJet, Frontier, Great Lakes, Midwest, Northwest, Southwest, United and US Airways.
How do I get to Lawrence?	Lawrence is a little more than 50 miles west-southwest of the airport. The shortest route is to take I-29 south to I-435 south to I-70 west; parts of I-70 in Kansas are toll, the toll to Lawrence will be $1.45. To avoid the toll, continue down I-435 to Kansas 10 in Lenexa, follow Kansas 10 west to Lawrence. This route adds about 10 miles to the drive.
Where do I stay?	There are a number of hotels and motels in Lawrence including a Holiday Inn Express and Hampton Inn. We've managed to avoid football home games this year, so lodging in Lawrence should be available.
Do you have a special rate?	No, sorry. We've tried that in the past and most people reserved too late, didn't get the special rate and Renkus-Heinz was stuck with cancellation fees. You are on your own for the hotel.
Will you book it for me?	Nope, you must contact the hotel of your choice directly.
Do I need a car?	Probably; we'll post an updated participants e-mail list regularly so that you can coordinate car pooling with other class participants.
Do you have directions?	As soon as we have final parking instructions from the University, we'll create a directions sheet.
Should I bring my laptop?	Yes, by all means bring your measurement kit. We expect you to take measurements during the workshop.
Do I get CTS Renewal Units?	Pending, we've applied for 8 units
